

STUDIO SNIPPETS

by Stephanie Wilkinson

NO. 2 APRIL/MAY 2014

Hello!

2014 is another busy year in the Studio with new shows, opportunities and workshops. My new painting collection, the Brazil-inspired Samba Series, uses personal photos and cine film and translates them into pen or acrylic paintings.

The Fisherman's House (image) is an example of a pen painting. We stopped here to buy a huge fish for supper which was carried down the bank in a large bucket by two men and put in our boat. The fish was delicious! Drawing from the photo meant paying proper attention to the detail. By spending time with this image, I gained a much clearer insight into the way the fisherman and his family live here.

My visits to Brazil over recent years have rekindled a strong and pleasurable familiarity with the food, colours, climate and language of this beautiful country. If you get the chance, do go!

Next exhibitions

*Teddington Midsummer Art Fair on 20/22 June at the Landmark Art Centre and at Urban Art Fair, Brixton 12/13 July.

The Samba Series

Have you seen the new book?

A gorgeously printed & bound collector's keepsake or gift- the new hard cover 2014 Art & Design Studio Collection contains 42 full-colour pages filled with over 120 images. These include the Samba series, the Japanese Ladies, The Decorated House interiors, the Charleston watercolours and Pattern paintings.

Preview & order your own copy online or ask me to see a hard copy. Costs £56. See the link on the What's New page www.stephaniewilkinson.co.uk

Pen Paintings as Prints

Wolf & Badger, a London retailer promoting new independent designers of fashion and interiors have selected a range of my Pattern paintings to sell as limited edition prints through their online store.
